

Anatol and his 7 glamorous amours

AFFAIRS OF ANATOL by Arthur Schnitzler concludes its five-week run at White Oaks Theatre in Carmel Valley with special Christmas presentations this Friday and Saturday night at 8:30. Above, Rick Morse as Anatol takes his place

Business Christmas decor will be judged Friday

Carmel Valley merchants... get on your Christmas thinking caps! The decoration judges will be watching you on Friday evening when the three best decorated shops in the Village will be chosen. Ann and Gene Baker, Marlinde Von Ruhs and Joe Ataide will combine their artistic yardsticks and pick the winners.

The three prizes to be awarded by the judging committee include a first prize of two free dinners at Will's Fargo Restaurant, a second prize of $15 in trade at Henriette's Interiors, and a third prize of free membership in the Valley Chamber of Commerce.

With all the businesses festively decorated, the Village will truly look like a "Story Book Christmas Land." The candy cane street signs and the white-sprayed Christmastrees seemed to spring up as if by magic in time for Saturday's Santa Claus parade. It really resulted from hours and hours of hard work by Hattie Jewett and her committee. She just made it look easy!

Windows smashed

Valley shops damaged during past weekend

Several incidents of vandalism occurred early Sunday morning in the building occupied by Henriette's Interiors, Carmel Valley Realty Company, and Chez David.

At 1:10 a.m., Stanley Dohner, who resided in the rear of the building was watching television with a friend when a man whom he recognized tore down his TV antenna and ripped the screen off one of his windows. The person attempted to enter but ran off when Mr. Dohner grabbed a knife.

When the Sheriff's deputy checked the premises he discovered two broken windows at the front of Henriette's Interiors. Rocks had been thrown through the glass and entry had been gained by reaching through and unlocking the door.

The deputy presumes the person was the same as the man who had been in the rear of the building.

After going through the decorating shop he left by the back entrance and broke a window at the Real Estate office.

Mr. Dohner and Mr. and Mrs. Jewett, owners of Henriettes, filed criminal complaint at the District Attorney's office against the suspect.

ABOVE — SANTA ARRIVED at the airstrip Saturday afternoon in traditional Valley style. He always prefers to use the big, big fire engine to travel to the Village instead of his trusty reindeer. As many children as can squeeze in climbed aboard the engine to ride with the jolly old elf. Joining in the parade were story book characters portrayed by members of the Lionettes, Cub Scouts, Blue Birds, Trail and Saddle Club and Horsemen's Association members with their horses and hundreds of kids who couldn't fit on the fire truck.

LEFT — THE QUEUE seemed never-ending as the crowd of children, anxious to "put in their orders" kept Santa Claus busy during the afternoon.

Santa Claus will be in his house in the Village from 1 to 4 p.m. daily.

Letters to the Editor

Letter drops and CV cleanup

Editor - The following is a copy of a letter sent to Postmaster Sam Brandt. Perhaps other Outlook readers would be interested in the suggestion.

Dear Mr. Brandt,

In accordance with our conversation the other day, I am writing you this letter suggesting that the Post Office Department install a letter drop box somewhere in the Carmel Valley village area where we can easily drop our mail from our cars.

The ratio of cars to people in the Carmel Valley area is one of the highest in the country. As you are aware, the only place besides our rural type mail boxes where we can leave mail is the Post Office. The one way street and the limited parking spaces which are also used by numerous business establishments are further taxed by those of us who only wish to leave mail.

There are numerous places in the village area served by public roads where the car letter drop could be located without creating a traffic hazard. I am sure that the Chamber of Commerce, business representatives, and the County Road Commission would assist in selecting the location of a car letter drop which would serve the best interest of the community.

Stanley T. B. Johnson

EDITOR--We have deplored the sights and the condition of some sites in Carmel Valley and the Village. But thanks to the cleanup committee of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Assn., the tone of the whole Valley was uplifted on Saturday, Nov. 6.

Be assured that from now on we are acting as monitors of at least one "cabbage patch" and no doubt many others feel the same way.

A few lines from a hymn keep recurring to me... "He knows the angels that you need, And sends them to your side."

Certainly the Valley was filled with little angels (Campfire Girls and Cub Scouts) and big angels on that memorable Saturday of Nov. 6.

They did an extraordinary job.

Use permit statement by Institute staff

According to a statement released by the staff of the Institute for the Study of Non-violence, they do not believe that any use permit is necessary for the operation of their study group after listening to testimony offered at last week's hearing before the Board of Supervisors. Because they feel the permit is not applicable they have sent the following letter to Tom Hudson as the chairman of the Board:

Dear Sir:

After carefully reviewing the conditions attached to the Use Permit by the Board of Supervisors at the public hearing in the above matter on Tuesday, November 30, 1965, we, the undersigned, feel that we made a mistake in originally referring to ourselves as a "school" before the Planning Commission. We have concluded that ours is not a school within the meaning of the Uniform Building Code (relating to Group C occupancies); nor is it a school within the meaning of the Educational Code of the State of California; nor is it a school as contemplated in the Zoning Ordinance of the County of Monterey.

Therefore our application for a Use Permit for purposes of conducting a "school" was unnecessary (as indicated by Supervisor Arthur Atteridge) for the reason that we have not, nor will we in the future, conduct a "school" on the subject premises; nor use the premises in any way contrary to law.

It is our intention to abide by the Zoning Ordinance of the County of Monterey and the laws of the State of California.

Respectfully submitted,
Ira Sandperl, President
Joan Baez, Vice President
Holly Chenery, Secy-Treas.

The Sheriff's Blotter

By REX PRYER

November 27 - A resident of Cachagua reported 50% of a cabin near his house had been destroyed while he was away on a trip. 12 boys whose identity was known by his son were suspected of the vandalism. All except two were from Salinas and about 18 years of age. Damage was estimated to be at least $3,000. Owner is filing a civil suit against boys and their parents. His son was not present when incident occurred.

December 1 - An employee of the Rancho San Carlos reported the theft of a 30 by 40 foot plastic hay cover which had been in use on a haystack. Cover was found to have disappeared between 3:30 and 4 p.m. on day of report. No one had been in or out of the gate at which employee had been stationed during those hours. Sheriff's deputy surmised entry had been through the Country Club property. He found a witness who saw three teenage boys going toward location in question but had not seen them come back. The plastic weighed between 150 and 200 pounds. Footprints were found near the haystack.

A resident of River Road reported his home burglarized and suspected persons living next door. A person in residence at adjoining house gave deputy permission to search with the complainant. They found several of the reported items and two residents of the house, an 18 year old girl and an 18 year old boy admitted the burglary. A recent burglary on Esquiline Road was also linked to the same individuals.

December 3 - Deputy returned to above house on River Road for further investigation and discovered a plastic bag of marijuana several feet outside of a Family films will be featured at new Carmel Village Theatre

Carmel's Village Theatre, a new movie house, will open the latter part of March or in early April according to Tom Graff, one of the partners in the enterprise. The new building will be constructed on the vacant property at the corner of Dolores and 7th Streets, next to Nielson's Market in Carmel.

Eddickenson, also of Carmel, and Nicholas Pecora of Fresno complete the partnership which is independent of any chain or other theatre interests on the Monterey Peninsula.

The new theatre will seat 409 persons and will play first run family films of the "Ben Hur," "Mary Poppins" or "My Fair Lady" category. The building will also be available for fund raising benefits of non-profit organizations.

If Carmel residents desire, and show an interest in helping to choose films, a Saturday matinee for children will be offered. Graff stated that there are hundreds of excellent films suitable for youngsters, but in order to have the matinees successful some parent cooperation is necessary.

Construction will be started by Geyer Construction Company as soon as the weather permits. Architect George Willcox and designer Kipp Stewart have planned a building which will cost about $250,000 when completed.

CV Gem and Mineral Society to intall officers at dinner

Carmel Valley Gem and Mineral Society will celebrate with its annual Christmas season dinner and installation of new officers Friday night. This is the club's regular meeting night at the Carmel Middle School and doors will open at 7 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7:30 and the menu will include a combination of potluck and club-sponsored items, with an abundance for all, if each family attending brings what has been asked, according to Urcel Holloway.

In tallying the club's progress during the past year, there were a number of members who have learned new skills in the art of using rock, minerals and fossils, and have improved the quality of their handwork. The Club feels that this year's Gem and Mineral Show, held for the second time at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, was even better than the 1964 event.

All members are invited to come to the dinner! Guests are more than welcome, but members must be sure and bring enough extra food in their special potluck dishes for "them times five," according to Mr. Holloway.

Officers who will be installed at Friday's dinner are: W. Malcolm Bauer, president; Bob Baird, vice-president; Rachael Kopp, recording secretary; Gale Holloway, corresponding secretary; Gene Herman, treasurer; and outgoing president, Palmer Olson, new director.

Women's Golf group elects

The Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club Women's Golf Association elected Mrs. David S. Ball, Captain, and Mrs. John Rosendale, co-captain at a recent meeting. Then, they chose the secretary-treasurer and chairmen of various committees. Mrs. Warner W. Lee was named secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Reichert, tournament chairman; Mrs. Roderick Wilson, handicap chairman; and Mrs. William E. Williams, member-at-large.

The by-laws were then read and accepted by the organization, which holds Ladies' Day at the Country Club every Tuesday.

New manager told for apparel shop

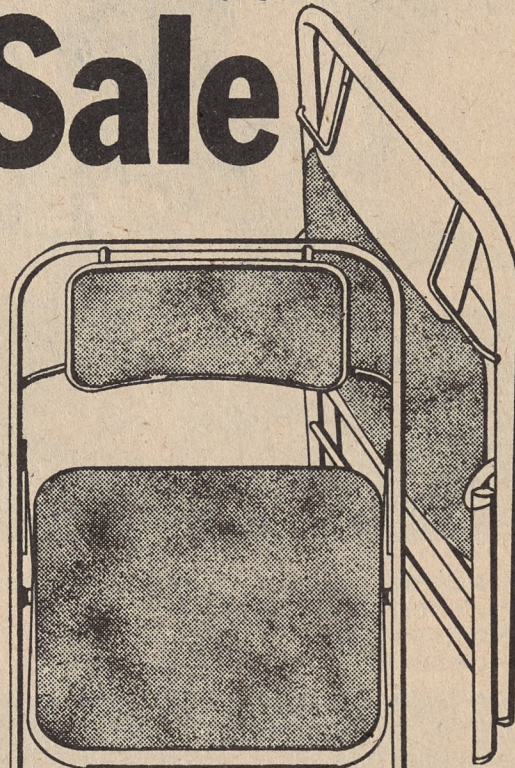

FRANK GALLAGHER

Howard Brunn announced the appointment recently of a new manager for the "HB's wife" women's apparel shop in Carmel. He is Mr. Frank Gallagher formerly an executive for I. Magnin and also Saks Fifth Avenue in San Francisco.

Mr. Gallagher also had his own fashion design studio and is well known for the outstanding fashion shows he produced for I. Magnin. However, he has always wanted to live and work in this area, so the new position makes it possible. He has taken a home in Carmel Meadows.

For the fourth consecutive season the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra, with vocal and instrumental soloists and the Monterey Peninsula Choral Society of 85 voices, will present the Christmas Oratorio by Johannes Sebastian Bach, in the basilica of Carmel's Mission Borromeo on Sunday, December 12.

Because of the length of the oratorio the first three movements will be performed in the afternoon, commencing at 2:30 o'clock; the second half will start at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to attend without charge.

Soloists, imported by the Symphony Orchestra's music director and conductor, John Gosling, will be, Soprano Leona Gordon, mezzo-soprano Claudine Carlson, tenor Charles Stone and baritone Marvin Klebe.

Sunday's performances, the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra's Christmas gift to its supporters and friends, are presented to create a greater interest in live music performances with the cooperation of Local 616, American Federation of Musicians, through a Grant from the Recording Industry's Trust Fund.

Chamber music concert by Beyer String Trio at MPC

The Beyer String Trio, with guest artists Wade Parks, pianist, and Raymond Fabrizio, flutist, will be featured in a chamber music concert at Monterey Peninsula College in cooperation with the Musician's Association of Monterey. The concert will be presented on Tuesday, December 14, in the MPC Music Hall, at 8:30 p.m.

The members of the Beyer String Trio comprise the nucleus of the Beyer String Quartet, which performed extensively throughout the San Francisco Bay Area for many years. In 1959, circumstances forced the group to terminate their con-certizing temporarily.

This past summer Helen Beyer, violinist, Erwin Gordon, Violist, and Elaine Beyer, cellist, were able to combine their talents again as a trio. Under the auspices of the Carmel Arts Commission, their first concerts were presented at the Forest Theater in Carmel. They have been asked to perform again during the Arts Commission's 1966 season.

The December 14 program will include the Beethoven String Trio, Opus 9, No. 1; Mozart Flute Quartet in D Major; and Brahms Piano Quartet, Opus 60 in C Minor.

WHY NOT SPEND A LEISURELY CHRISTMAS AT CARMEL VALLEY INN?

Christmas will be relaxing, refreshing, and traditional at Carmel Valley Inn — and truly each from the heart. Come join us in song and garlandry.

Your Christmas package will include an Open House, Festive Punch Bowl and entertainment from the stage of the famed Tantamount Theatre. At the Inn, there will be an evening of readings, caroling and such other things as come to mind at the time.

Dinner will be preceded by the lighting of the Yule Log. This is a European plan package, with entertainment but not meals included. For a couple, the rates are (main building) two days at $28.00 or three days at $39.00. Studio units are available at $30.00 for two days and $42.00 for three days.

It is also time to be thinking of "the Crosby." As a Christmas gift to your golfing friends (or yourself) you may want to inquire about our Crosby package. How nice to find a confirmed reservation at the Carmel Valley Inn for the Crosby Tournament under your tree.

Pre-Christmas shopping is at its best in the quaint villages — only minutes away from the Carmel Valley Inn.

Sincerely,
John and Graeme Harrison

The Valley at LARGE

Comings and goings of people you know...

By GINNIE DREW

Mrs. Donna Hamilton and her daughter, Dottie, enjoyed a "first" in their home on Sage Road. Although the home is not new to them they have just recently taken occupancy and this was the first Thanksgiving and first turkey. The new sign in front tells that the name is Pakatoa, which is a Polynesian name from a New Zealand island, meaning "haven for all." Miss Nancy Buchanan of San Francisco was a guest for the holidays. Joining them for Thanksgiving dinner were neighbors Lt. Col. and Mrs. Carl Maier, and on Friday, Lt. and Mrs. Philip Ridgeway, also neighbors, joined them for a Thanksgiving buffet.

Three Valley families attended the 49th annual California Cattlemen's Association during their meetings on the Peninsula last week. The Bob Wilsons, John Treageas and John Marbles, all ranch owners in the Cachagua area, are members of the group. General sessions and the Banquet were held at the Monterey County Fairgrounds and other functions at the Mark Thomas Inn. On Friday afternoon, the Cowbells (the women's division) enjoyed a luncheon and fashion show at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club.

Judy Koon, daughter of the John Koons of Flight Road, celebrated her eighth birthday recently with a Red Riding Hood party for her friends. The party followed traditional lines of pin-the-tail-on-the-donkey and other games, combined with cake and ice cream. Judy's guests included Linda Tedrow, Cindy Shepard, Laurel Porter, Leigh Ann Cecka, Carol Lee Frisbie and Jody Elliot.

We heard the other day of a young lady, aged 12, who climbed Ventana Cone in Los Padres National Forest with her parents. After scaling the peak, she took a dimestore glider from her pocket, wrote the date, her name, address and the fact that she had just climbed the mountain, on one of the wings. Then she sailed it off. The report is that a man in Salinas found the glider in his front yard and calculated it had come 50 miles in three days.

A recent magazine article which Firechief Chip Collins called to my attention spoke of a safety campaign to prevent detergent gas poisoning. Housewives, anxious to do a better job of cleaning bathroom fixtures should be warned not to mix toilet bowl cleaners with household bleaches to remove stains. The resulting chemical reaction produces a gas which has caused death and long hospitalization. Another witches brew of a cleaner which has caused gas poisoning in a number of people is chlorine bleach and ammonia.

Chip says, "Don't follow the adage, if one is good, two is better...it may cost you your life!"

Rabies tests run on the fox which was behaving strangely and was later shot by a sheriff's deputy on the Don Mason property proved to be negative. The animal had distemper. However, the Monterey County Health Department has verified a case of rabies in a bat found in the garden of a Salinas residence. Two rabid skunks have also been found in the county in the past year. Parents should warn their children not to approach or touch wild creatures.

Tom Gruenewald, managing director of the White Oaks Theatre, has been chosen by San Francisco's Actor's Workshop to direct their forthcoming production of Moliere's "Don Juan." Sets for the play, which will open on New Year's Eve, will be designed by Joan Larkey, also of the White Oaks staff. Congratulations! By the way...there is a White Oaks technical position open to a high school or junior college student interested in working with Tom, Joan and artistic director Gale Peterson. There is no pay other than experience. For further information contact the theatre.

Fishermen will be happy to know that a recent check by the California Department of Water Resources (we stopped on Rosie's bridge and asked the man what he was doing with our river!) indicates an excellent oxygen content which means good fishing! His records also showed that the river was dry until mid-December last year.

Have you seen the sign on "Manana Cottage" in Carmel? Mr. R. Van Ostrand, owner, put up a notice stating that pets were welcome at the shop. He believes the animals can read because immediately an Irish setter, a dachshund, a tiger cat and then several other cats started coming in for visits.

Anyone who is interested in working on sets and painting scenery can tryout for the jobs at the Circle Theatre in Carmel and receive a valid year's membership in the Community Theatre if they are put to work, according to publicity director, Mari Dudley.

Carmel Valley's most famous race driver, Ed Leslie, has just been named to the National Competition Board of the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA).

Rev. Mangini talks on Selma to Catholic women

Members of the Women's Sodality of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church will gather at the 12:15 p.m. Mass Sunday, December 12, to receive Holy Communion as a group.

Members will gather at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 14, at the Parish Hall to welcome a group of new members with a special installation ceremony and to hear the Rev. Terence Mangini, guest speaker, who will talk about his recent trip to Selma. Fr. Mangini's talk will be non-political, stressing the Church's stand on the situation, according to Mrs. Thomas Waters, Prefect of the Sodality. Mrs. Waters also asks members to bring any small, but useful, white elephants to the meeting to be used as Bingo prizes for patients at the Carmel Convalescent Home.

Carmel Middle School

Seventh grade science classes hear lecture by Dr. L.W. Pollard on study of muscles

On Wednesday December 1, 111 7th grade science students of Carmel Middle School took part in a most valuable program presented by Dr. L. W. Pollard and his Electro-Cardiograph Technician, Miss Cynthia Hudson.

These 7th grade science classes under the leadership of Mr. Albert C. Kolb and Mr. Barry M. Lastinger have been studying health and were most interested in the way electricity and muscle movement were related.

Dr. Pollard began his presentation by showing that his "measuring device" measured electrical discharges. He attached the electrodes to his arm and showed that moving one finger would cause the electrical needle to move. By moving additional fingers the needle moved increasing amounts.

The class concluded that this electrical instrument was indirectly measuring muscle movement.

Miss Cynthia Hudson then connected the electrodes to Doctor Pollard's arms and while the doctor lay absolutely still the needle wiggled in a regular pattern.

Some students felt that this wiggle was the heart muscle and designed tests to prove this.

The pulse was taken by Miss Hudson as one student watched the needle. It was established that the pulse was affecting the needle and further tests were designed.

One class had one of the students hook up the electrodes to his arms and another student watched the needle wiggle while the first student's heart beat was amplified through a public address system. The class concluded that the needle movement was related to the heart contraction and could see how such an instrument could be used to study muscles.

Dr. Pollard showed the class how doctors can restart a heart muscle by external heart massage. The doctor indicated that this practice is being used increasingly in first aid teams and by rescue workers. He mentioned that the real danger of the 60 cycle electricity we use in our homes is that this current has alternating cycles near the frequency of heart contraction and frequently caused heart stoppage. He impressed the students with the need for electrical workers knowing both artificial respiration and heart starting techniques.

Middle School teachers will attend annual mathematics conference

Mr. O. C. Rogers, principal of the Middle School and Chairman of the Mathematics Curriculum Committee for Carmel School District, will lead the Middle School math teachers to the annual fall conference of mathematics teachers being held December 10, 11, and 12, at Seaside High School. The yearly conference brings together mathematics educators from the northern part of the state in all levels of school and college and from industry as well. Leaders in mathematic education from throughout the nation address the council and conduct group sessions to acquaint the participants with current trends and practice in the field.

Mrs. Willie Belle Mason, popular math teacher in the Carmel Schools, is attending the conference as a guest panelist on "The New 7th and 8th Grade Texts, How Are You Using Them?" The panel is composed of Mrs. Mason and other teachers who have been using the newly adopted text books for the first time this year.

Miss Christine Christy, new to the Carmel School District last year, will be returning from the meeting of the Mathematics Council, Southern Section, just in time to join her colleagues at the Monterey meeting. She flew to Long Beach over the weekend to represent Carmel at the Southern Section meeting.

Other Middle School teachers attending will be Linda Thompson, Jay Criddle, Neil Smith and Clyde Klaumann.

New social group has 40 members

The newly organized "Unattached People Over 30" group had 40 potential members at its organizational dinner meeting on November 19.

They have now enjoyed a theatre party at the First Theatre on Friday, December 3, attending the performance of "After Dark."

Afterwards the group met at the Shutters in Monterey for coffee, dessert and conversation.

At a work and planning session on Sunday at the Estrada Adobe committees were organized, programs outlined, membership requirements set up and general practices and procedures explored, according to Claudine Van Fleet of Carmel. Persons desiring further information may call Mrs. Van Fleet at 624-8170.

School Board members hear Vice Pres. Humphrey

Members of the Carmel Unified School District Board of Education attended the annual California School Board conference in San Francisco last week. The series of workshops and lectures began on Thursday and continued through Saturday, with Vice President Hubert Humphrey speaking to the group at a luncheon meeting Friday. Mrs. Herbert Blanks, Clayton Neille, Stephen Sassoon, Robert Newton and Dr. Hilton Bialek attended various sessions which included discussions on "Reading in Depth," "The State Board of Education in Relation to the Elected Board," "Civil Rights," "The Creative Mind," and "Collective Negotiation... the Winton Act."

A panel on "New Trends in Teacher Education" included State Board member Mrs. Talcott Bates of Monterey.

Another local resident, Judge Richard Eldred of Pacific Grove, current president of the California School Board, introduced Vice President Hubert Humphrey at Friday's luncheon.

Judging on Christmas decorations for CV Village shops set Dec. 10

Judging of the three best decorated shops in Carmel Valley Village will take place Friday evening, December 10, after dark. Winners will be chosen by a committee of Valley artists headed by Eugene Baker.

Mrs. Les Jewett, chairman of the Village Christmas decorating plan, announced the Friday date, saying that some merchants were under the impression that judging would not be until later in the month.

Carmel Valley chicken ranch

When 12,000 hens start cackling at the Kunz egg farm on Carmel Valley Road, it falls into the category of a din.

In addition to these laying hens, 1500 to 1700 baby chicks are delivered into the brooding cages every 70 days. This represents a lot of omelets!

Karl Kunz and his wife, Mary, have been chicken ranchers for about three and a half years. He was formerly at Lockheed, working with missiles, and decided to specialize in smaller spherical forms instead.

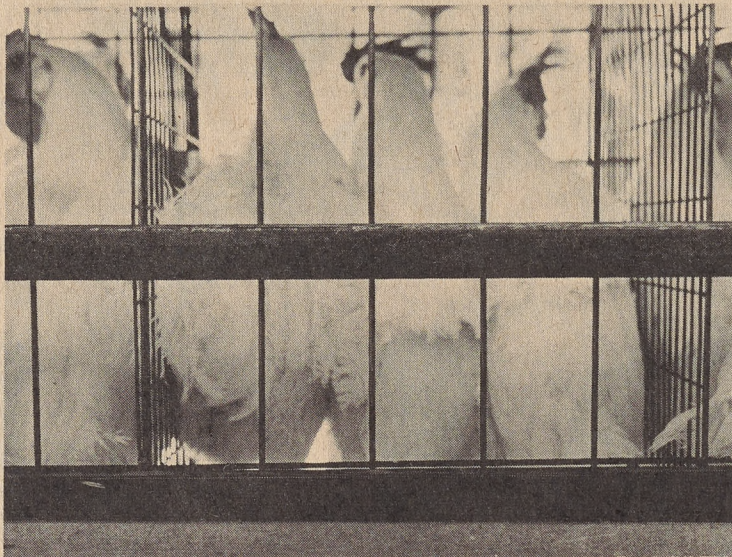

Although Karl insists he is no poultry expert, he rattles off percentages and facts in a most informed way.

Many buyers will insist there is a difference in flavor, vitamins, etc., but Kunz says there is no difference whatsoever between brown eggs and white eggs. All of his come from White Leghorn hens and are therefore white. They are marketed locally, collected in the late afternoon, candled, washed, packed and then delivered in the morning.

To feed his hungry brood, he uses 12 tons of malt feed, which is laced with vitamins, calcium, grains and dehydrated alfalfa, in a week. This breaks down to 3,200 pounds a day! Another little factual bit is that it takes 4.2 pounds of feed to produce a dozen eggs.

As egg purchasers drive down the long driveway to the Kunz farm, they pass fields of brilliant blossoms. This is the "other business" of cut flowers which the Kunz family maintains when they are through caring for the 12,000 chickens. Mrs. Kunz wanted to live in town and have gardens and Mr. Kunz loved the more remote areas. So they are halfway between town and country and halfway between flora and fauna.

BY LIMITING OCCUPANCY to three chickens per cage, Kunz is able to maintain a check on which hens are producing regularly. Three eggs in the basket indicate 100% production...if there are less, he must keep a close tab until he determines the slacker. A laying hen produces an egg every 26 or 27 hours.

LONG ROWS of double deck cages stretch the length of the laying shed. Inclined wire racks catch and hold the eggs after they are laid. The breakage from one hitting against another is amazingly low. UNDISPUTED QUEEN of the Chicken farm! This white Leghorn hen is at her peak performance at seven or eight months of age. Little does she know that she is slated for someone's fricassee when her egg production decreases. A chicken lays an average of 240 eggs a year.

VIOLET BROOKSHIRE candles the eggs in a darkened cubicle. Imperfections are easily visible as they pass over the lighted candling machine. From here the eggs travel on a small conveyor belt into a machine which washes and dries them.

HENS ARE RAISED on a strictly maintained schedule which they become accustomed to. When the routine is broken in time change or by the presence of strangers they protest violently. Francisco Villarreal (left) and Reynaldo Herrera collect the eggs at 12:40 every day and make the rounds of the 12,000 birds in about two hours. The rider collects from the bottom row while the walker takes the second deck. Between 7,000 and 8,000 eggs are laid each day.

AFTER THE EGGS pass through the washing and drying process, they move onto a grading machine which divides them according to size. Mrs. Herrera then packs them into correctly marked cartons for shipment. If any come out of the bath dirty or stained, they are put into a special washpail to soak until they are gleaming white.

KITCHEN SINK SCHOOL

Children learn valuable lessons from dishwashing time — if it is made pleasant with talk and laughter. Even though their help may frequently be doubtful and an occasional dish need a re-do, the kids themselves benefit by acquiring habits of cleanliness and cooperation which will last their lifetime.

And speaking of cleanliness, Americans are the cleanest people on earth — they use more water per day per family than the people of any other nation. This heavy usage imposes a heavy responsibility upon the operators of public water supply systems as water must be plentiful, available at all times, and, above all, safe. To maintain a high standard of service, plant facilities must be expanded and improved continually to take care of increasing demands.

CV Women's Club gives $1,222 to Community Center

The presentation of a grand total of $1222.02 to the Community Center set the December meeting of the Carmel Valley Women's Club off to a roaring start. After president Dina Fields had turned the check over to Community Center Board president Bob Jones, he thanked the club members for their generous gift and praised the women for their continued financial assistance to the Center.

Jones said, "The Carmel Valley Women's Club has been the Community Center's largest single donor, having given $8000 for the pool and $600 in 1964 for the paving of the parking area."

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Walter Swenson, a Salinas florist, treated the members and guests to a demonstration of Christmas flower arrangements and the use of native greenery combined with ornaments. Decorative items from Mexico, Spain, Japan, and the United States were used in the interesting exhibits arranged by Mrs. Swenson. Figures of the Three Wise Men set in Monterey pine boughs on a platform of green velvet, a madonna from Spain in a golden bowl filled with greens, sprays of fir hung with tiny tinkling windbells and several candle arrangements were among the ideas offered.

Following the program, tea was served from a "Christmas Picture" tea table, in gold and white, by Mrs. Jack Lundin, Mrs. Kenneth Van Hagen and Mrs. Harry Galloway.

MRS. MARK FIELD, president of the Carmel Valley Women's Club, presented a check for $1222.02 to Bob Jones, president of the Community Center Board, with a true Christmas feeling. The donation to the Center represented proceeds from the most successful "Holiday Foods and Fancies" party given by the Women's Club at the CV Golf and Country Club in November.

Joyous news

Local church tops $130,000 building goal

With the joyous news that their victory goal of $130,000 had been exceeded, the Monterey Peninsula Community Church concluded their building fund campaign which had begun on November 16. At a report meeting and dinner held at All Saints Church last Friday, Charles Hersched, fund chairman, announced that to date they have received $130,406 and more contributions are still expected.

This amount, plus the other funds that are available will enable the Church to start on their building program on the five acres adjacent to the Carmel Middle School at the mouth of the Valley.

The first phase including the cost of the property will be approximately $390,000. Construction will begin in the early summer on the sanctuary, offices, classrooms and a fellowship room. Eventually the plans call for a separate meeting hall to replace the fellowship room. Architects for the Community Church buildings are Burde and Shaw Associates of Carmel.

Girl Scouts selling 1966 calendars to raise funds

Girl Scouts in the Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council are now selling 1966 calendars to neighbors and friends.

The 1966 Girl Scout calendar is an appointment-type calendar with attractive colored pictures of Girl Scout activities. It is produced by the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A. and is being sold in the tri-county Monterey Bay Girl Scout Council area for 50¢ per calendar.

According to Mrs. Olan Whisenhunt, council calendar sale chairman, the sale is primarily a troop money raising project to meet the need for funds to carry out troop activities. A profit of 20¢ per calendar sold by troop members during the annual sale goes to the troop's treasury.

Anyone desiring to purchase a Girl Scout calendar should contact a Brownie, Junior, Cadette or Senior Girl Scout in their neighborhood or the local calendar sale chairman, Mrs. Mike Moore at 394-1067.

Under the Oaks and Among the Cacti

By Mildred Hattan

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Emil C. Hansen who have returned to their Country Club Drive home after six months abroad. After several weeks visiting in New York and New Jersey, the Hansens enplaned on Pan-Am for Denmark, where they spent three months with Mrs. Hansen's relatives. They last visited four years ago. On to Switzerland where from Stracie, near the Italian border, they toured the Alps. The Valley travelers particularly enjoyed the contrast of the fringe of green grass dotted with picturesque chalets right to the snow line of the magnificent snow topped mountains. They would like to have spent more time in Italy, but will save an extended visit for their next trip. Returning to Denmark they flew back to New York and returned West by car, enjoying nice weather all of the way.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Giffin of 279 West Carmel Valley Road spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Fresno with Mary's mother, Mrs. Ethel Waller. While Don went quail hunting in the foothills near Fresno, Mary remained with her daughter, Mrs. Larry Hamilton who is recovering from surgery.

Derek Rayne of Los Ranchitos, well known in "Dogdom" as a judge, breeder, and handler of top form show dogs added a new and very special trophy last Sunday at the Sequoia Kennel Club show in Tulare when his Welsh Corgi, Rockrose of Wey, took best in show honors over 1,071 entries. The English and American champion won best of breed at the Westminster Show in Madison Square Garden, at Del Monte, and at the Carmel Valley Inn national-all Corgi show, but Derek believes it is the first time a Welsh Corgi has won best of show in the States.

When Mr. and Mrs. John Power returned to their home on Country Club Way following an annual Thanksgiving with the Brians, special friends who reside in Burlingame, they found a horse in their coral. When they build the redwood fence to shelter gardening equipment, lumber, etc., Julie had commented that it looked like a "horse fence" and it has been known as that ever since. When they returned from their Thanksgiving trip they discovered the rearing horse (toy variety) nailed to the fence, had a good laugh, and are still wondering who played a joke on them.

An "old oak leaf cluster" to a pint sized sales woman, nine year old Sherry Sweiss. Sherry stopped on her way home from school the other night to see her Mother at the Sugar and Spice Shop and discovered the Christmas Doll on display. Lori explained that it was the annual Christmas project sponsored by members of the Auxiliary of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department with all proceeds donated to Children's House. Sherry asked if she might sell some tickets and was back in a remarkably short time "all sold out." Anyone who was not contacted by Sherry may see the doll this week in Grace Maher's window. Tickets are available there or from any Auxiliary member. The drawing is December 19.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Marquard of Buena Vista in Roble del Rio became parents of a son at 5:20 a.m. on November 15 at the Community Hospital. Michael Dean (whose middle name is for his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Dean of Orinda) weighed 6 lb. 12 oz. Pamela Jean, his sister who is a year and a half, welcomed him along with grandparents, Mrs. Tim Morrow of Lahaina, Maui, Milton Marquard, Sr. of Oakland, and great grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Porter of the Valley.

A "wetting down party" was held November 27 at the Presidio Officers Club in Monterey honoring the promotions to Commander of H. J. Edmonds of Monterey and D. M. Willson of Carmel Valley. Friends and relatives joined the two couples at cocktails from 6-8. From the Valley were Major General (ret) and Mrs. Ernest J. Dawley (Mrs. Dawley is Cmdr. Edmond's aunt), Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Robert Kirksey, and Lt. and Mrs. Philip Ridgley. Both men are enrolled in the Communications and Electronic curriculum. Cmdr. Willson has spent most of his eighteen years of active service on the West Coast. He was commissioned through the flight program in 1951 and took four years away from his Navy duty from 1954 to 1958 to obtain a B.S. degree in Electrical Engineering at Pennsylvania University.

Results of the Valley Duplicate Bridge Club which meets weekly at the Rancho Del Monte Country Club listed the following tournament winners: first, Mrs. Arnold Bradley and Mrs. George Corrigan; second, Mrs. Mary Angier and Mrs. Mark Drobeck; third, Mrs. Howard Vail and Mrs. Vivian Palmer.

Lionettes trim Community Center Christmas tree

The Carmel Valley Lionettes, with an assist from their husbands, decorated the Christmas tree at the Carmel Valley Community Center Thursday night. The tree was purchased last year as the organization's gift to the Center which serves as the hub of social activities for Valley individuals and Clubs during the holiday season. Encouraged by delicious pie and coffee served by Mrs. Jack Black, "Santa's Helpers" next tackled the gift-wrapping project of presents for the Carmel Convalescent Home. The gifts purchased with proceeds from the rummage sale sponsored by the hospital's Christmas Committee with the Lionettes donating the gift wrap and artistic touch to ready them for Santa's pack.

Swim Club bake sale

For freshly baked goodies on the weekend, two locations will be offered in the Cypress Swim Club's fund raising Bake Sale. On Saturday from 9 a.m. until they are sold out, booths will be set up in front of the Post Office and in front of the General Store.

The money raised by the sale will be used to send the girl swimmers back East to compete in the national A. A. U. championships.

RLS soap collection campaign continues

In the past two weeks, the Stevenson School Committee to Support the United States Government Policy in Viet Nam has been collecting soap from the local hotels and motels to send to the people of Viet Nam. The committee now has 600 pounds of soap.

The Committee was formed as the result of a letter received from a former Student Body President, now a Lieutenant of Marines stationed in Viet Nam's Chu Lai area. The letter, which described the living conditions of the farmers and villagers (see last week's Outlook), was read during one of the regular morning assemblies, and Student Body President, John Steele, appointed Junior Class President, Larry Keuchler, chairman of a committee to collect the soap. Also on the Committee are seniors Harry Clark, Jim Morris, and Peter Rand, junior John Englander, sophomore Phil Fleming of Carmel Valley, and freshman Gary Bechtel.

Among the Carmel Valley motels and hotels participating in the campaign are The Hide-A-Way Motel, Canary Cottages, Rancho Del Monte Resort Motel, Blue Sky Lodge, Valley Lodge, and the Carmel Valley Inn.

Those wishing to donate soap to this campaign should bring it to the A. W. Wolf residence at 198 West Carmel Valley Road, or bring it to (or call 624-1257) the Robert Louis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach.

Patrick Strong Berge, Jack Dennis Hermanson, Stanley A. Smith of Carmel and Susan Linda Murphy of Pebble Beach are among the 651 academic trailblazers enrolled recently at the University of California's new campus at Santa Cruz.

Selected from 1500 applicants, these young people are participants in a unique educational innovation aimed at combining the best of a small liberal arts college with the best of a large university. Provost Page Smith of Cowell College welcomed them by saying, "You are at the beginning of a venture designed to demonstrate that

Gift list for U.S. military in Vietnam

The recently released list of gifts acceptable for American military personnel in Vietnam has been expanded, after being cleared by the National Red Cross through the military authorities.

In addition to such equipment as tape recorders, cameras, musical instruments, and record players in the previous list, the Red Cross may now accept for distribution the following commercial games such as Monopoly, Scrabble, darts, and so on; playing cards, regular and pinocle; self-contained handcraft sets such as "paint by numbers;" stationery with self-seal envelopes, and individual sewing kits.

It is stressed that all these items must be new; used material cannot be shipped. Groups interested in projects for gifts to Vietnam might be interested in such requested items as 8mm movie projectors, 35mm slide projectors and hand viewers or one of the other larger items mentioned.

students and faculty can work together to create a genuine community of scholars."

The 512 students resident on campus are housed in trailers during the initial year of operation. The arrangement has contributed to the modern pioneer enthusiasm which permeates the entire campus. Both students and faculty will move into their permanent quarters in the fall of 1966.

Seven Valleyites complete First Aid course offered at Fire Station

Seven persons recently completed the Standard First Aid Course given at the Carmel Valley Fire Station and were awarded certificates by their instructor, Don Laird, assisted by Fire Chief, Chip Collins.

Qualifying for standard cards were Sally McKay and Gary Bradburn whose certificates were necessary as members of a ski club, Rolland Pilon, Robert W. Parkhurst, and Thomas McKiernon, who are school bus drivers, and Dean Diaz Jr. and William Parham who took the course as part of their training as probationary members of the Valley Department.

Navy announces plans to airlift gifts to servicemen in Viet Nam

Local Navy officials have announced plans for the joint participation of the Naval Auxiliary Landing Field and the Naval Postgraduate School in the Defense Department's "Christmas Star" program.

"Christmas Star" is a limited airlift operation to carry community Christmas gifts from the American people to the U. S. servicemen in South Viet Nam.

This supplemental airlift will be provided by the Air Force Reserve and the Air National Guard. Gifts to be carried by the "Christmas Star" airlift must come from recognized civic and veteran organizations. These groups may contact the Operations Office at the Landing Field by calling 372-7171, ext. 608 and make arrangements for delivering their collections.

Individuals desiring to participate should contact appropriate local organizations to arrange for the inclusion of their gifts in the program.

Deadline for the parcels has been set for December 5.

Groups are requested to consolidate individual packages into units that can be easily handled by air shipment. Packages must be marked "Christmas Star" and display their contents.

First Aid squad answers two calls

The Red Cross ambulance, operated by members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Department, was called to the home of Mrs. Ethel Poole, Village Drive. Under the advice of a physician they transported Mrs. Poole, a medical emergency, to the Community Hospital. The call was received at 9:30 a.m., November 29.

Laurie McGlochlin, daughter of the E. A. McGlochlin of East Carmel Valley Road, was taken to the Fire House November 30 at 2:30 p.m. The firemen on duty sent the medical emergency on to a local doctor.

The Gallery at the Far End of Old Fisherman's Wharf in Monterey
372-2553, 624-2331
DAILY 12-5 PM FRI. & SAT. 7-10 PM

THE GIRL'S HOCKEY TEAM from Carmel High School looked a little the worse for wear after a playing session following the recent downpour. The field had become a slippery, slimey mud-hole and the girls were polka-dotted and splashed at the end of the practice. (Left to right) Kathy Gibson who looks about to commit mayhem, Sandi Bauman, Lindy Hancpol, Terry Read, Joel De Maria, who got well splattered, Susie Trapkus and Joan Kramer, shrinking from the muddy grasp of Sandy Mayfield. Changing of the guard for CV Kiwanis Club

BILL MALLEK (center) was presented with a handsome attache case by Tom Hefling in appreciation of his past year's efforts. Frank Heiner, (stand-

Kiwanis hears Capt. Engleman

Capt. Chris Engleman, U.S.N. (ret.), a member of Wachtel Co. of Washington, D. C., a consulting firm, spoke to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club last week.

Sierra Club to show 3 films

The Ventana Chapter of the Sierra Club will sponsor the showing of three free films tomorrow, December 9, at the Pacific Grove Junior High School Auditorium.

"War in the Redwoods," "Glen Canyon," and "Wilderness Alps of Stehekin" will be shown at 8 p.m. The public is invited and there is no admission charge. For further information contact Elizabeth Fuller Jones, 624-7293 in the evening.

Petkus plans new animal hospital

Construction on Dr. Gerry Petkus' new veterinary hospital on Center Street in Carmel Valley Village is scheduled to start in February.

He pointed out that an entirely new building is planned between the present plumbing shop and Dr. Ed Marcucci's office building. The veterinary hospital will be a 2,400 square foot building of white plaster and wood exterior with two interior patios, and not a conversion of the plumbing building, as previously reported.

Quaint? Yes, we're quaint . . .

Even in a community noted for quaintness, we think we are quaint. For instance, we are quaint enough (perhaps old-fashioned is the word) to feel a sense of responsibility to our customers and to the people who send them to us. This is our —

New Outlook feature

Harry Fletcher begins weekly poetry feature

Commencing with this issue, the Carmel Valley Outlook takes pleasure in presenting a new feature to these pages with the publication of the "Rhyming Philosopher" by Harry W. Fletcher, well known throughout California and particularly on the Monterey Peninsula as a talented newspaperman, poet, and actor.

Now in its 134th week, "The Rhyming Philosopher" has previously been published in another Peninsula newspaper.

Mr. Fletcher was born in London, England, before the turn of the century, but came to America as a young man after completing his education and receiving his initiation into the newspaper profession. His wanderings led him to Monterey county, which became the base of his operations and travels.

It was early in 1917 that Harry Fletcher found himself working in Anchorage, Alaska, and in common with most red-blooded young men offered his services to his adopted country when war clouds seem to threaten democracy. Her served in the United States Army until August 30, 1919, having risen to the rank of acting master sergeant.

Attending the University of Oregon Law School in Portland, Fletcher won his degree as Bachelor of Law and practiced in Portland until the call of his newspaper training overcame his luke-warm desire to straighten out other people and their troubles. At various times in between he also taught school, both elementary and secondary, and at one time thought he would like church ministry to the ex-

No. 134

Oh, what to get father for Christmas,
The man who has bounty abundant.
He never drops hints to assist us,
So any trite gift is redundant.

Now, vases will do for our cousins,
And nylons and blouses for neices;
For nephews there's socks by the dozens,
And uncles and aunts, antique pieces.

The stores are all stocked with a million
Nice things for our sons and our daughters,
Like clothes in styles Swiss or Castillian,
The rage, we are told, in some quarters.

But Dad picks his own pipe tobacco,
He's fussy on wearing apparel,
So all we can give, ipso facto,
Is cheers and a nice Christmas carol.

tent that he qualified himself; but this, too, lost its attraction to seeing himself in print.

During the past year, Mr. Fletcher has appeared with the Carmel Community Players in the role of "Nono" in "The Night of the Iguana," and as the Professor in "The Firebus." His favorite recreations are hiking, bicycling and fishing when he isn't writing or working on his seven-acre piece of "forest primeval" near Corralitos in Santa Cruz County, where he lives with his wife, Clara, who is also an enthusiastic hiker, cyclist and fisherman.

window. Eight or ten transient persons had been living at the location during the past several months.

In further investigation, deputy discovered a 17 year old boy alone at the above River Road location at 12:15 p.m. He denied any connection with burglaries. His parents live in Saratoga and deputy took him into custody as a juvenile without adult supervision and in danger of becoming a delinquent. He was placed in Juvenile Hall and his parents contacted. They were aware he was in Peninsula area, but did not know where.

December 3 - Two residents of Pacific Grove, driving up Robinson Canyon Road got stuck off the road and in attempting to get their pickup back on the roadway discovered a number of hypodermic needles in an adjacent gully. They called sheriff's department which determined they were disposable type and probably used for treatment of animals, not narcotics. Deputy thanked them for their cooperation, because it might have been important.

November 23 - A resident of Paso Mediano reported that her spare tire and wheel had been taken from the trunk of the car while it was parked in the yard. November 26 - An employee of June Simpson's restaurant at Carmel Rancho shopping center reported a burglary. Thief gained entry by smashing a window, took $550 in cash and disturbed nothing else.

DON McKENZIE, JR.

Donald McKenzie Jr., a Valley resident for the past thirty years, has just purchased the Grapevine from Byington Ford. Don, who lives with his family in Los Ranchitos was formerly the owner of The Don McKenzie Insurance Agency.

Don is a member of the Carmel Valley Horsemen's Association and a past exalted ruler of the Monterey Lodge of the B.P.O.E. Number 1285. He is also a past president of the Monterey Kiwanis club.

The change of ownership has already taken place and Don will be in the store daily from now on.
